LIMA YOUTH HURT AT DELPHOS

Auto Crashes Against Freight Train on Pennsy. Railroad

COMPANION IS MISSING

Search Made in Two Counties for Loyal Males

Roy Neal, 18, of S. Atlantic-av, Lima, was seriously injured Sunday at 2 a. m. when an auto, he occupied with a chum, Loyal Males, 17, also of Lima, crashed into a Pennsylvania freight train at the Main-st crossing at Delphos. Neal was employed at Lima, but his home is in Van Wert.

Males disappeared soon after the crash, losing himself in the crowd of curiosity seekers who flocked to the scene, it is reported. He had not been found Monday.

According to the story told police the boys were proceeding south on Main-st. They did not see the east-bound train. In an attempt to avoid being struck, Males, the owner of the machine, a Buick roadster, turned to the right and hit the train between the engine and tender. Neal was pulled from the wreckage in an unconscious condition. He did not regain consciousness until 10 a. m. Sunday.

Neal was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Pavell, Sixth and Jefferson-sts., in Delphos. X-ray examination may be necessary to determine whether he is hurt internally, physicians say. He is badly bruised about the head and face.

BODY NOT FOUND

Unconfirmed reports reached Delphos Monday that young Males' body had been found near the Auglaize river at Scott's Crossing, three miles east of Delphos, but investigation by police disclosed the rumor was unfounded.

William Neal, Van Wert, father of the boy who was injured, was in Delphos Sunday and made arrangements to take the boy home as soon as he is able to be moved. Charles Males, father of the other youth, declared Sunday night he is at a loss to account for his son's mysterious disappearance.

Auto parties made a general search in Delphos and vicinity all day Sunday for Males, but he vanished as the in air.

Both principals in the accident are employed at the Ohio Steel Foundry in Lima.

After an examination by physicians early Monday, Neal was ordered to his home. His injuries consist of nothing worse than scratches and bruises, it is declared.

Members of Males' family went to Delphos Monday and instituted a search for the boy. They adhere to the belief that Males was stunned and in a semi-conscious condition when he disappeared.

LEGGING "POOLS"

Sheriff Declares Baseball Gambling Not Stopped Here

Sheriff Harvey B. Crosson declared Monday that traffic in baseball pools has not been suppressed in Lima.

Crosson says the open sale has been stopped, but he believes pools are being bootlegged under cover, in a number of different places.

"Knowing and catching are too different things," he said. "With a limited force and the fact that the pool leggers know the officers, while the officers don't know all the leggers, makes the task of suppression doubly difficult," he added.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT

The passing of a morning paper in Lima leaves that field entirely uncovered for readers, and to fill this gap as far as is in the province of an afternoon paper, The Lima News effective today, will run four editions.

The First Edition will be on the streets at 11:30 a. m., covering all the overnight news, local and telegraph; the Home Edition will go to press as usual at 2:30 p. m., carrying close of all stock, grain and live stock markets; the Night City Final will be on the streets at 5 p. m., carrying after-close market comment and quotation summaries, base ball games up to that hour, and local and telegraph news, until 7 o'clock, eastern time, which includes all Washington events, New York and Seaboard developments, and western events up to 6 o'clock, Chicago time. The Lima News will also continue its Rural Morning Edition, and protect morning mail subscribers on all big events, elections, and extraordinary national and international developments. Watch for the Five O'clock today.

PENNSY PUBLICLY REPRIMANDED

Classed as Striker in Rail Labor Board's Rebuke

BODY DEFIED BY CARRIER

Result of Clash Over Right to Negotiate Wages

CHICAGO — (United Press) — The Pennsylvania Railroad today was publicly reprimanded by the United States railroad labor board for "refusal to permit a certain class of employees to select their own representatives to negotiate agreements covering wages and working conditions."

The road was rebuked by the board as placing itself in the same position as employees who strike against the board's decision and the law creating the board.

The Pennsylvania was declared to have "denied to its shopmen essential rights as laboring men to which congress had declared them entitled."

The official rebuke, the only penalty the rail board is empowered to inflict, climaxed the attempt of the Pennsylvania to negotiate with its men direct thru "company unions." The trainmen brotherhoods were the only exception to this scheme and the fight has been before the board and in courts at various times for two years.

DECISION FOR BOARD

The railroad ignored an order to hold an election among its shop crafts so that the men might select representatives to act in wage and other disputes. The board cited the road for contempt. The Pennsylvania took an injunction case to restrain the board from administering the rebuke to the United States supreme court which held in favor of the board.

Recently Samuel Rea, president of the road, was preemptorily bailed before the board by Ben W. Hooper, chairman, in a similar controversy involving the clerks' brotherhood.

The clerks charged that the road was arbitrarily forcing employees to negotiate thru company unions when they wished the unions to represent them. Rea again defied the board and declared the men voted to negotiate thru the company unions. He challenged the right of the board to interfere.

Today's rebuke branded the road's course as "indefensible from every viewpoint."

While the carrier was refusing to deal with the organization of the shopmen and that of the clerks, as such, it negotiated agreements with the trainmen and engine brotherhoods, which they signed officially as the representatives of those organizations," the board's rebuke said.

"If the same right had been accorded to the shopmen this controversy would never have existed."

"The problem of efficient and uninterrupted railroad transportation is of a paramount importance to the people of the country. The peaceful adjustment of labor controversies greatly contributes to this end. No other railroad in the United States has taken a position similar to that adopted by the Pennsylvania in this case."

In the hearings on the controversy before the board, union representatives claimed that the men wished to deal thru American Federation of Labor unions, but were denied that right by the road. The road asserted the men wished to be represented by the company unions.

TOO FRIENDLY, IS ARRESTED

Magazine Salesman Charged With Petting Customers

Luther Ashcraft, who gave his home address as 685 Nagles-pl, Dayton, had a permit to sell magazines but not to put his arms around women customers and call them pet names, Officer Dick Watkins told Judge Jackson Monday.

When Ashcraft pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct in criminal court Monday he was given a fine of $25 and 30 days' sentence in the Toledo workhouse. The sentence was suspended on condition that he get out of town immediately. His license to peddle was revoked.

But he couldn't leave, as he had to start laying out his fine in jail as he had no money to pay the $25.

Officer Dick Watkins, answering a call from E. Vine-st, arrested Ashcraft on complaint of two women, who said they were subjected to undue familiarities.

PLANT IN FLAMES

Ten Oil Tanks Are Afire at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press) — Firemen were battling this afternoon to confine a gasoline fire at the plant of the Ohio Refining Company in Bond Hill, to the ten tanks afire.

The ten tanks, afire contained 23,000 gallons of gasoline. Details of firemen were stationed on the tops of twelve reserve tanks containing 300,000 gallons of gasoline, trying to prevent the blaze from communicating to them.

The fire started when a tank truck was being loaded. It is thought gasoline spilled and caught fire. However, caretakers said they were unable to explain the fire. They said flames suddenly enveloped the truck and the tank while they were at work.

The dead are: John Morrison, of Cleveland. James Phalen, Cleveland. Mrs. Earle E. Hubank and her son, Edward, 7, of Cincinnati.

Glen Cooley, 32, Warren. Cooley was killed when his truck collided with a trolley car. His wife and Robert Armstrong were seriously injured.

Morrison was killed when he backed his automobile into the path of a limited interurban car on the Cleveland, Southwestern and Columbus line at Fairview village near Cleveland. Four others in the car were seriously injured.

Phalen died from injuries received when struck by an automobile on the streets of Cleveland.

OVER EMBANKMENT

The Hubank machine went over an embankment after colliding with another car. Professor Hubank was on his way to Chicago to make an address.

At Youngstown William Tapley is in a hospital in a serious condition suffering from a fractured skull after being struck by an automobile. Eleven persons were injured at Toledo in automobile accidents yesterday; two at Delphos, when a machine was struck by a train, and four at Dayton, two seriously, when a trolley car struck a machine.

7 DEAD, 16 HURT

PHILADELPHIA — (United Press) — Reckless automobile driving cost seven lives and resulted in 16 persons being seriously injured here Sunday and early today.

Two of those crushed to death were children. In two of the accidents, drivers of the speeding cars fled, leaving their victims lying in the streets. Others surrendered to the police.

FOOD COST JUMPS

Increase During Past Month Shown in 51 Cities

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The retail cost of food to the average family in 51 cities increased .40 percent of one per cent from April 15 to May 15, according to figures announced today by the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor. Of 32 cities showing an increase, the highest, four per cent, was recorded in Philadelphia. Increases of one per cent were shown in Cleveland and Detroit. Seventeen cities showed an increase of less than one half of one per cent.

The average increase of the year ending May 15 was three per cent.

TONY WEBBER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO POSSESSION

A. E. "Tony" Webber, 44, of 218 1-2 W. High-st, pleaded not guilty in criminal court Monday to a charge of possessing illicit liquor. Police say they found liquor in a bottle in one of his socks Saturday when they raided his soft drink parlor at 451 N. Main-st.

GOES TO TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

This mother was placed on trial today at Newark, N. J., charged with poisoning her brother Charles Raymond Avery. The baby shown in the picture was born after the arrest of the mother.

WOMAN FACES COURT ON CHARGE OF MURDERING TWO RELATIVES

Jersey Resident Accused of Poisoning Brother, Mother-in-Law

HUSBAND IS ALSO INVOLVED

Youth Killed by Inches, is Claim of State

NEWARK, N. J. — (United Press) — Facing charges which represent her as a modern Lucretia Borgia, Mrs. Mary F. Creighton went on trial here today for the alleged murder of her brother by slow poison.

A pale, nervously-smiling woman, Mrs. Creighton looked anything but the cold-blooded murderess which the state claims her to be. She is accused of having fed arsenic to Charles Raymond Avery, 18, killing him by inches, to obtain his life insurance.

Her husband, John, a mild-mannered man, with a dazed air, is charged with the same offense. The prosecution proposes to show that he came under the influence of his wife and was forced to participate in the alleged poison plot.

In addition to young Avery, Mrs. Creighton is suspected of having poisoned her mother-in-law, Mrs. Walter J. Creighton. She is under indictment for this. This elder Mrs. Creighton's body was exhumed and traces of poison found in it, according to state's experts.

MOTHER OF TWO

As Mrs. Creighton was summoned to court, nurses at the house of detention were caring for her month-old-baby, born since her arrest. Friends are looking after her other child, a daughter.

Attention of the police was directed to the Creighton case by an anonymous writer. There is a similarity between this and another celebrated poison mystery—the case of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, who is alleged to have killed off his relatives one by one, in hope of eventually eliminating all heirs save himself to a fortune. Dr. Warren Waite's arrest resulted from an anonymous telegram which was sent to the district attorney.

The unnamed accuser of Mrs. Creighton alleged the latter was a "friend" that she stood over her brother's bed and watched him die and that she had killed her husband's father and mother in much the same manner. It was alleged the arsenic was given young Avery in chocolate pudding, to prevent his tasting it, and that he again and again, as he lay ill, cried out that he would eat no more of the pudding, but was forced by his sister to take it.

Superintendent Robinson of the institution said that Daugherty was given permission yesterday to go for a walk with an attendant. He met several friends in an automobile, stopped to talk with them. Then he jumped into the machine and was driven away. The attendant was told to attempt to hold him, it was said.

Superintendent Robinson said Daugherty had no permission to leave the institution. He said he did not know of any previous attempts by Daugherty to leave the institution.

MANY OTHERS ARE THREATENED

Eruption of Mount Etna Brings Widespread Destruction

RAILROAD LINE GOES UNDER

Thousands of Inhabitants Flee for Lives

CATANIA, Sicily — (United Press) — Hurling thousands of tons of flaming lava high into the sky from its main crater, while five new craters are belching molten destruction with reports like those of a thousand cannon, Mount Etna is in eruption and already has destroyed five villages and threatens a score of others.

A great wall of molten lava, 30 to 40 feet in height, slid over the spot where the little town of Lingua Glossa had stood, and advanced in a flaming line, three hundred yards across, upon neighboring hamlets. The village of Boscoragata disappeared.

Inhabitants of the threatened towns, warned for days by rumblings and mutterings of the great mountain volcano, fled to safety in time; no casualties have been reported, but roads are clogged with rude carts and peasants and their families staggering along loaded with household effects, snatched from the fiery masses that inundated their homes.

UPHEAVAL GROWING

The outpouring from Etna's old and new craters grows in volume each hour. Thunders of great violence come to watchers on distant hills thru the dense black smoke that hangs over the mountain top. Now and then great bursts of flame shoot high above the inky pall and flare against the sky, lighting the haze with a red glow. At each new demonstration of the awakening giant, new flights are begun by the terrified Sicilians.

The lava pours down the mountain sides and over the surrounding country at terrific speed.

A line of railroad has gone under; the station at Castiglione burst into flames and then was buried in lava.

As in the days of old Pompeii, the terror of the volcano has communicated itself to the countryside for miles around. Cattle and sheep are being driven in great herds from the direction of Etna. The population fills the crevices of nearby towns, even of those at a safe distance. No work is being done.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

The eruption began at an early hour Sunday morning, with a terrific explosion, as the end of the world had come. The whole top of Etna appeared to have blown off.

Then followed a rain of Lapilli and ashes, which fell steadily for many minutes after the blast.

The population of villages at the foot of Mount Etna rushed from their homes and gathered in the streets, clattering excitedly. Women with babies clasped to their breasts, rushed about hysterically. They sought aid in the churches; many fell on their knees and prayed. All about them felt the lapilli and hot ashes while a thick pall of impenetrable smoke hung over their heads, so that they could not see what threatened.

When the winds blew from the mountains face the great black cloud, there was Etna, belching red hot lava, but with an aspect far more terrifying than ever before, for five new flaming mouths had opened in her sides.

From these apertures, the streaming, flaming lava seeped swiftly towards the doomed villages. A flight of terror began.

Castiglione and Lingua Glossa lay in the path of the destructive masses. These towns quickly emptied themselves of the inhabitants. By afternoon, they were destroyed. Great clouds of smoke seen by the fleeing people who glanced over their shoulders, told first of the destruction of the pine forests of Lingua Glossa, then of the town itself. The lava reached the railroads and the station was burned.

Darkness came on but there was no cessation of the lava's advance. By this time people from all the surrounding country were in flight.

Just before midnight a strong earth shock was felt, adding its terror to those of the eruption.

Houses trembled on their foundations and the roads along which the inhabitants of the destroyed villages were escaping rose and shook beneath the despairing calvados.

A new mouth of the crater seen to have opened in the volcanoes. It was near a spot named Mount Nero after the dead emperor of ancient days and from this new hole the most terrifying flow of lava came, racing ahead of the other streams. The prefect of Catania was informed of the disaster and hurried to the vicinity of Lingua Glossa. He was accompanied by a deputy and by the local authorities. Later Bishop Acireale arrived and gave what comfort he could to the population.

Relief trains were ordered out, to proceed to the stricken district and troops were dispatched to lend what aid they could.

Cache Seized in Murphy Car May be Divided

MORTGAGE CLAIM SCOUTED

Rum Runners May be Held on New Charges

Hospitals in Lima may be presented with 23 quarts of Canadian Scotch whisky, seized by deputies Saturday when a car belonging to Tim Murphy, 34, waiter, was searched at Thompson's garage in W. Market-st.

Judge Emmett J. Jackson, before whom Murphy pleaded guilty, declared Monday he has not made up his mind as to how the whisky will be disposed of. Murphy was fined $1,000, and his coupe, valued at $2,266, was confiscated.

He intends to have several bottles of it tested by J. R. Cuthbert, city chemist. If genuine as indicated by the labels, the cache will probably be divided between the two hospitals in Lima.

Liquor confiscated on previous occasions has been so disposed of by the court. If the spoils are divided between the hospitals, county commissioners may demand that a portion go to the District Tuberculosis hospital.

Claims made by Murphy that his car is mortgaged will be fought by the county. Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott declared Monday. PROSECUTOR SKEPTICAL.

"The mortgagors will have to show me," he declared, "that it is not a measure of protection and the mortgage a blind."

While not claiming credit, Lippincott had not a little to do with Murphy's capture. Three days prior to his arrest, he called Sheriff Crosson and Roy Bowersock, county detective into his office.

"Too much whisky is coming into Lima," he told them. "Get the men who are bringing it in."

Lippincott declared Monday he has a list of alleged customers of Murphy in his possession. Included in the number are one or more women of social prominence, officials say.

He did not indicate what action will be taken, but search and seizure may be made on the evidence in his possession.

Further action may be taken against Murphy, Sheriff Crosson declared, on other charges. The license on the Buick seized, Crosson declares, was issued originally for a Ford.

HOME IS BURNED

Fire Destroys George Leadford Property at Delphos

Fire, starting in a clothes closet below a stairway, almost completely destroyed the George Leadford home, Douglas-st, Delphos, owned by Fred Lammertman, Monday at 2 a. m.

The family was not at home when the flames began eating their way thru the five-room story and a half structure. Leadford, a fireman on the A. C. & Y. Railroad, was in Akron and his wife and child on a visit in Hamilton. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Clarence Weger, a neighbor.

It is believed the total loss is $2,500. Household goods were almost totally destroyed, according to Fire Chief Grothhouse. The owner declared there is hardly enough insurance on the house to pay for razing the ruins.

The doors were locked and firemen had to batter their way into the house to fight the flames.

After returning from the scene, firemen were called out again about 5 a. m. to extinguish a blaze that started in a corner of the house and threatened further damage to the property.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR OILING CITY STREETS

C. B. Weymouth of Bellefontaine has been awarded contract for oiling of about 11 of the city's unpaved streets. Work will be started next 30 day and will be completed the same week, City Engineer Jewhurst, announced Monday.

Jewhurst said approximately 25,000 gallons of road oil, 40 per cent of which is asphalt, will be used. Application of the mixture on roads virtually eliminates dust, it is said. Road oiling has been done each winter by the city for a number of years.

Among the streets to be oiled are Greenlawn, Scott, E. High, E. North, Baxter, Shawnee, Perry, Park, Kibby, Pierce, and Main-st, south of the Erie tracks.

DIABETES IS FATAL TO ETHEL IRENE YARGER

Ethel Irene Yarger, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Yarger, of Bath-tb, died Sunday morning at the home to her parents after an illness of two months from diabetes. She was born in Bradford-co, Indiana, 1908.

Surviving besides the parents are three sisters and two brothers. The body will be removed to Montpelier, Indiana, Tuesday morning, where funeral services and burial will take place.

Flag Day exercises were very pleasing. Large numbers turned out to assist the Elk in paying tribute to Old Glory, and several other thousands witnessed the downfall of our noble independents at Murphy-st lot at the hands of the Delphos L. P. on baseball players.

They hopped onto Betty's delivery like a section of the American army storming a German stronghold in the Argonne and the results were about the same for Lima as were experienced by the Germans.

It was a well satisfied and happy bunch of visitors from Delphos when they returned home after the game. They had reason for jubilation. It was a clean victory decisively won.

Reports of Former Premier's Death Are Denied

LONDON — (United Press) —

Troops of the Zankof government of Bulgaria, are resorting to severe measures to put down a peasant counter-revolt even going to the extent of burning whole villages in the southwest, according to the Daily Chronicle today.

Jugo-Slavia, alarmed, is calling reservists to the colors and dispatching troops to the Macedonian border, the Chronicle's Belgrade correspondent reports.

These despatches indicate that the reported demise of former Premier Stamboulsky, the peasants' leader, has by no means ended the counter-revolutionary movement. In fact there are fresh reports that Stamboulsky is not dead at all, as announced by his enemies, but has hopped up again at the head of a random peasant force.

AMMUNITION SEIZED. A report from Sofia by way of Athens says that Bulgarian agrarian and communist seized huge ammunition stores at Oriskiof Sunday.

There are indications of numerous other minor revolts in various parts of the Balkans, inspired perhaps by the Bulgarian coup d'etat, according to London newspapers.

A strong Jugo-Slav force is reported to have been dispatched to Montenegro to put down a Mironic revolt which demanded restoration of Turkish authority.

COUNCIL LIGHT CONCERN IN SQUABBLE OVER RATE

The New Knoxville Electric Co. and the council of that village, in Auglaize-co, are in a mix over the payment of a bill for the use of electric current.

The company has sued the village for $72.66, for 34 street lights for the month of May. The village officials had agreed to pay $21 per year for each light maintained, but the public utilities commission fixed the rate at $2.66. Council refused to recognize the rate and when the bill for May was presented at the advanced rate, it was rejected.

500 PRESENT AT FLOWER MISSION DAY PROGRAM

Over 500 attended the annual flower mission day program held at the Allen-co infirmary Sunday, under auspices of the W. C. T. U. Program was carried out as announced. Rev. William Martel George, pastor of Second-st. M. E. church, was the principal speaker. Community music was given by singers from Eliza under the direction of Mrs. W. F. John. Alstetter's band played a number of selections. During the afternoon flowers were distributed among the patients of the institution. Light refreshments were served.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR DECEASED LODGE MEMBERS

Memorial services for deceased members of Lima Review, No. 43, Women's Benefit association, will be held Friday evening at 8 in the lodge hall, corner Main and Wayne-sts.

Officers of the lodge are urging that all members be present.

SEED INSPECTORS ENTER FIELDS

Increased Cost of Examination Reduces Number of Plots

SEE 175,000 ACRE HARVEST

Butler-co Farmers Form Corps of Local Specialists

Inspectors of the Ohio Seed Improvement association entered fields of southern Ohio last week and are now working north, H. J. Ridge, county agent, stated Monday.

Inspection of fields is a step by wheat farmers of the state toward certification of all seed wheat. The cost of inspection has gone from $2 to $6 per field and due largely to this fact, it is expected that the number of fields inspected this year will be reduced to about one-fourth according to advice from officials of the association.

It is estimated that this year 200 fields will be inspected throughout the state. These fields represent the largest and most advanced wheat plots in the state, it is declared, and will furnish sufficient seed for the entire district.

Within a month, Ohio will be harvesting approximately 175,000 acres of improved wheat, Ridge said. Included in this acreage are the four types on which a survey in Allen-co is being conducted at present, Fults, Trumbull, Portage and Gladden.

Farmers of Butler-co have solved the inspection problem, Ridge has been informed, by the organization of a corps of local inspectors. These inspectors will go thru the fields of the county and publish locally the results of their findings.

An aid to the Allen-co farmers' elling problem is contained in plans received Monday by the local office for a home made the layer.

The device consists of a trough 2x6x8 feet, attached to the rear end of the wagon at a 30 degree angle. The tiles slide from the wagon onto the ground as it follows the route along which the drains are to be laid.

CHILDREN LOSE IN WILL SUIT

Widow of Richard Croker Calls it Real Irish Victory

DUBLIN—(United Press)—"Bula, don't give up the ship."

Such were the last words of "Boss" Richard Croker, his Indian bride, who won a complete victory in the courts here when the late Tammany politician's children were denied their suit to break Croker's will, declared in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

The "boss," Bula said, was encouraging her to fight all law suits designed to deprive her of her entire estate, which his last will left to her.

Mrs. Croker was tremendously pleased by her court victory.

"It was a real Irish victory," the former American Indian girl declared. She pointed out that an Irish flag was flying over Glencarn the home Croker left her in celebration of the court triumph over Richard Croker, Jr., and other children of the "boss" by his first wife, who tried repeatedly and unsuccessfully to discredit Bula and break the will.

"I feel I have been fully vindicated," Bula said. "The courts of Ireland have done me justice."

"I would like to add that my one regret through the trial was that my dear husband was not by my side in the hour of victory."

"I might say that I carried on the fight in accordance with his last words and wishes."

"His last words to me were: 'Bula, don't give up the ship! Please see all these lawsuits out in open court.'"

Two months before Croker died, Bula said, she asked him in the presence of witnesses if he would like to see any one in particular, mentioning the demands of his children. He replied that he would not, she declared.

"Thank the people of America and Ireland for their good wishes," she said.

MRS. J. H. HOBBS' FUNERAL TO BE PRIVATE, TUESDAY

Mrs. Mary Ellen Hobbs, 67, wife of J. H. Hobbs, died Sunday at 5:40 p. m., at the home of her brother, Samuel Plummer, of 238 S. Pine-st, following an illness of 18 months. Death was due to complications. Mrs. Hobbs was born in Auglaize-co, May 27, 1856, and was a lifelong resident of Auglaize and Allen-co. She was a member of Grace M. E. church and Eastern Star lodge.

Surviving besides the husband and brother are a son, Burleigh Hobbs and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Conley, Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Amanda Everingham, of Cleveland.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Plummer residence. Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Grace M. E. church will officiate. Interment in Woodlawn.

NEW AFTERNOON DAILY PAPER ANNOUNCED

Editorial announcement made Sunday by The Republican-Gazette Publishing Company confirmed the rumor in newspaper circles for some time of the change in that publication from a morning to afternoon newspaper, effective today.

The Republican-Gazette has for 40 years been known as one of the best morning papers in Ohio. It was founded in the eighties, but sprang into especial prominence under the editorial management of the late Bert Campbell, widely known journalist. On his retirement the Hon. W. A. Campbell, returned to the editorial desk, and gave way only a few years ago to his distinguished son, Don A. Campbell, one of the best newspaper men in the central west, with wide experience on metropolitan papers.

Associated in the new afternoon field with Mr. Don Campbell, is Earl Miller, who returns here from Chicago. The Lima News welcomes the new publication into the afternoon field with the same good will and cooperation that has existed between the two papers for the past 20 years. The Republican-Gazette will be published every afternoon and Sunday morning, the daily morning editions as heretofore, being totally abandoned.

LIMA NEWS WILL NOT MOVE

Rumors Concerning Theatre Deal Here Are Denied

Two-way rumors over the city that The Lima News had bought the Quilna theatre, and that The Lima News had bought the building and would remove its plant to the W. Market-st location, were absolutely and positively denied Monday.

The rumors originated over the big electric sign at the Quilna reading "Lima Daily News," and advertising matter on card board and posters distributed over the city by Manager Lou Cunningham, of the Quilna. Mr. Cunningham was merely quoting a headline in a Sunday edition of some weeks ago, and attributing it to apply to all cinema films coming to his house.

The Lima News does not own a share of stock in the Quilna theatre company. It is owned by Mr. Cunningham, some local associates and a Detroit film distributor. The Lima News has no intention of removing from its present E. High-st location, and is not interested in the block housing the playhouse.

Yeggs Get $15,000 from Officers of Toledo Concern

TOLEDO—(United Press)—Taking advantage of the fact that the B. H. Baker Company has no night watchman on duty Sunday nights, Yeggs blew two safes in the offices of the company and obtained between $13,500 and $15,000. The safes were cleaned out, a penny lying on the floor and a check for $30 left on one of the desks was all that was left.

The robbery was discovered early today by Patrolman Krueger who discovered a door open. Yeggs evidently took every precaution to avoid discovery. Gloves, taken from stock, were used by the robbers while at work.

Grace, according to police, maintained a stoical silence when questioned as to the identity of the gunman and the possible motive behind the shooting.

Patrolman Farragher followed bloodstains along the pavement and found the wounded man in Cedar-av near 28th-st. Grace wore house slippers and was without a coat.

14 IN RACE FOR SENATE SEAT

Minnesota Will Nominate Three of Number Today

EACH PARTY TO PICK MAN

9 Republicans, 3 Farmer-Laborites, 2 Democrats in Contest

ST. PAUL — (Associated Press) —Minnesota voters in a special primary today are selecting three men — a Republican, a Farmer-Laborite and a Democrat — to contest in the July 16 final election for the unexpired term of the late Knute Nelson, senior United States senator.

Fourteen candidates are seeking favor at the polls today—nine on the Republican ticket, three in the Farmer-Labor fold and two bearing the Democratic stamp.

It is one of the greatest election free-for-alls in the state's history. Polls opened at 6 a. m. and before they close at 9 o'clock tonight approximately 400,000 ballots are expected to be marked.

Unless there are exceptionally close races the result probably will be known definitely 12 to 15 hours after the polls close.

LEADERS IN RACE

Recent political upsets in Minnesota have made "expert" prognosticators cautious, but they are agreed that Governor J. A. O. Preus and Oscar Dallah, who recently resigned as a state supreme court justice, should furnish the main competition in the Republican fight.

Magnus Johnson, one of the Farmer-Labor candidates, ran only 14,000 votes behind Governor Preus in the gubernatorial race last fall and he and Dr. L. A. Fritzsche, mayor of New Ulm, are considered principal contenders in the Farmer-Labor group.

James A. Carley of Plainview, state senator, has the endorsement of the Democratic state organization for that party's nomination and party leaders say he will overwhelmingly defeat Francis Cary, Minneapolis attorney.

Besides Governor Preus and former Justice Hallam, the Republican candidates are former Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, Congressman Sydney Anderson and Thomas J. Schall, former Congressman Ernest Lundeen and Halvor Steenerson; Victor Power, Mayor of Hibbing and John J. Martin, Minneapolis attorney. The third Farmer-Labor candidate is former Congressman C. A. Lindebergh.

Predictions as to the probable size of the vote in today's primary are based on apparent lack of interest in the election in the state as a whole, compared to that shown in most general elections. This condition is expected to cut the actual voters to one half of the 800,000 eligible to vote.

It is in the July 16 election that the main fight will come; and that will be between the Republican and Farmer-Labor candidates, as it was in recent regular elections, unless there is an unforeseen result in today's primary.

Senator Nelson's death lessened the Republican grip on the senate and party leaders are watching closely the result of today's primary.

ODD FELLOWS GRAND LODGE IN SESSION AT MIDDLETOWN

MIDDLETOWN — Delegates and visitors were arriving here today for the opening of the ninety-first session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Ohio, which will continue the rest of the week, until Friday, when installation of officers will be held. The Odd Fellows and their auxiliary, the Daughters of Rebekah, will be officially welcomed by city officials tonight, at a reception in a local theatre.

THOUSANDS HONOR OLD GLORY

Multitudes Gather for Parade and Exercises at Park

Favorable weather Sunday brought thousands of persons into Lima to participate in the annual ceremonies honoring the American flag, arranged by Lima Lodge of Elks.

Included in the parade which started from the Elk's home at 2:15 p. m. were: A cordon of police; Colonel John Harley and his staff; the American Legion drum corps, members of the G. A. R. in tuxedos; the Elk's Hussar band; Battery D, 136th F. A.; the Boy Scout band; Infantry and Boy Scouts.

The procession moved to Faurot park, where at the summer house, the impressive lodge flag ceremony was conducted. Flags were presented to the city on behalf of the lodge and following the services, Congressman John L. Cable delivered the address of the day, paying a tribute to the flag.

A platoon of infantrymen held guard mount in the drill field at the east side park and the click of rifles and movement of khaki clad men recalled activities in 1918.

Following the posting of guard the Legion fiddle corps sounded retreat. Battery D fired the sunset salute and the flag was lowered as the Hussar band played the national anthem.

An even greater crowd than the afternoon assemblage visited Faurot park in the evening to hear a concert by the Hussar band and to watch the display of fireworks.

A succession of pyrotechnics illuminated the sky and frequent explosions echoing thru the hollows of Faurot park completed the resemblance to a sector in the Voges battle front.

More persons attended Sunday's Flag Day program than at any previous celebration, Walt DeWeese, chairman of the committee, stated.

PRIEST KIDNAPED

Missionary Held for Ransom by Chinese Bandits

ROME—(United Press)—Chinese bandits surrounded the Roman Catholic mission near Hankow, China, and captured Father Malot, the missionary, and 500 Chinese converts, according to cables received here today.

The brigands demand ransom of $1,000,000, threatening to kill the priest if this is not paid at once.

Pope Pius has cabled Father William Leuters, at Hankow to do his utmost to effect the release of the captives.

THEATRICAL COMPANY GETS GIFT FROM GROTTO

Frank L. Hawkins, manager of the Hawkins-Ball Stock Co., playing the season at Faurot theatre, is proud of the possession of a beautifully engraved gold cigarette case, presented by the officers of El Karan Grotto, of Lima.

Hawkins is a member of Kishma Grotto, Flint, Mich. He conducted the ceremonies here at the Orpheum theatre a short time ago, in an exemplification of the Grotto ritual.

ENGINE TROUBLE DELAYS BINGHAM REACHING LIMA

City Manager C. A. Bingham, who has a cottage at Orchard Island, was delayed several hours in reaching Lima Monday when his automobile developed engine trouble near St. Johns. Bingham left Orchard Island about 7:30 a. m. and did not reach his office in the city until after 11 a. m.

COURT MAY ORDER LIFT INSTALLED

Courthouse Improvement Possible if Appeals Body Acts

NO MONEY, OFFICIALS SAY

Estimated Cost is $12,000, Architect Reports

Prospects for the installation of an elevator to serve the upper floors of the courthouse were revived Monday, when it was learned that appeals court has authority to order the improvement made.

Members of the court intimated they may act in the matter in the near future, unless the county commissioners order the change.

More than 30 persons daily visit the court of appeals chambers, according to Judge Kent Hughes. He estimates that as many as 150 visit other offices on the third floor. The recorder's office is one of the busiest in the building, it is declared. Judge Fred C. Becker's office, the county surveyor's office and jury rooms occupy the remaining space.

When the grand jury is in session, as many as 100 persons come and go in a day.

NO MONEY AVAILABLE
Commissioners, when told of the court's attitude, declared the court may order, but there is no money available for the purpose.

Cost of an elevator, including the shaft, will approximate $12,000, according to an estimate prepared by Frank Leech, county architect.

The county building fund has been wiped out by recent improvements in the building. There will be about $9,000 available, however, from June tax collections, according to Glen Wallace, clerk of the board. The sum is insufficient to put in an elevator, let alone provide for current repairs and improvements, it is pointed out.

Plans for using part of the June tax money for renovating and repairing the former janitor's apartments in the basement were announced some time ago. The commissioners may occupy the quarters when completed.

Hopes for early opening of the new court station were expressed by the commissioners Monday. They are confident, they say, that the contractors are nearly thru.

BOYS TO ATTEND SCOUT CAMP

Applications Filed for Stay at Reservation Near Celina

Applications for membership in the local Boy Scout camp party which will leave Lima for Camp "Hank" Simonton, July 5, are coming to the office of the scout executive, C. L. Conrad, announced Monday.

All applications must be at headquarters by Wednesday, he declared, and must be accompanied by a medical certificate and must be signed by the parents.

Camp "Hank" Simonton, located two miles north of Celina, has provisions for 60 boys, Conrad said. The camp consists of a 19 acre reservation upon which is located a permanent mess hall and kitchen.

The camp contains a 400 foot water front which provides adequate swimming and fishing facilities, he reported. A lagoon provides swimming and paddling opportunities for the smaller boys.

J. T. Maxwell, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., plans to be present at the camp, July 15, to direct the athletic contests between Elks, Rotarians and Scouts. Conrad announced.

W. A. Plam and Conrad, both members of the Red Cross life saving committee, will give instructions in life saving and swimming and the current slogan is, "Every Scout a Swimmer."

Lamp regulations will be rigidly enforced, Conrad declared, and parents need not worry about their boys wandering from camp. Any boy who leaves camp contrary to orders will be sent home at once, he stated.

The camp will continue to July 25.

TWO PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS IN CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Commencement exercises were held Sunday evening for two parochial schools, St. Gerard's grammar school and St. John's high school.

Rev. James Clark delivered the commencement address to 13 members of St. Gerard's graduating class at 7:30 p. m. in St. Gerard's church. Diplomas and certificates of scholarship were conferred.

Members of the class were: Raymond H. Burns, Paul J. Leahy, Raymond L. O'Brien, Raymond J. Galt, Rose M. Clancy, Helen C. Deahler, Mary C. Flavin, Cecelia M. Furr, Agnes R. Murphy, Mary J. McFarland, Mary Agnes O'Brien, and Regina C. Zink.

Rev. F. Dauenhauser, C. S. R., gave the commencement address to the members of St. John's high school graduating class. Exercises were held at 8 p. m. at the school auditorium.

Members of St. John's graduating class were: Margretta Blosser, Mary B. Cleveland, Margaret J. Ryan, Nellie Curry and Elizabeth J. Lehner.

Members of various committees were appointed some time ago. The first meeting will be devoted to a discussion of projects of the club that may be submitted.

Members of the business and Professional Women's club will hold the first regular dinner meeting of the organization Tuesday at 6 p. m. at the Elks club.

TAXPAYERS STAGE RUSH; $25,000 PAID IN MONDAY

Taxpayers flooded the corridor of the court house Monday to pay their proportion of the June collection at the county treasurer's office.

More than 200 persons had been taken care of by employees by 10 a. m. At the rate of paying, Harry E. Botkins, treasurer, estimated that collection will pass the $25,000 mark Monday.

Wednesday, June 20, is the final day for paying, without the penalty of 15 per cent extra being assessed. Commissioners, however, are empowered to allow a month's grace, if so inclined.

ROTARIANS HEAR COL. HAVERS

Roy B. Barnhardt, President, Names Committees for Year

Colonel E. A. Havers of New York City was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Rotary club held Monday at the Norval hotel. Colonel Havers, who has traveled extensively, gave a stereopticon lecture on the subject "Is the Pen Mightier Than the Sword?"

His lecture dealt with the progress of the human race and the important part played by the pen, from the crude markings, letters or characters used thousands of years ago to the present time of the finished fountain pen.

Colonel Havers showed views of important scenes where the pen was used, such as the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Lincoln signing the proclamation that freed the negro and referred to the signing of the Armistice.

Roy B. Barnhardt, president, Monday announced selection of the following committees to serve the ensuing year:

Entertainment, Earl Ludwig, chairman; R. Cuthbert, R. Nellis, Music, R. B. Mikessell, chairman; Frank Banta, George Metheny.

Fellowship, Ota Davis, chairman; Sam Weinfield, P. Hulsken, J. Blattenberg, H. Friedman.

St. John's church was a bower of beauty. Among the decorations were the senior class colors—American blue and gold.

The national anthem was sung ensemble. A special choir of boys and girls sang special songs. Services closed with benediction.

HUNT OF MORE HOOTCH IN CANAL UNSUCCESSFUL

Why and wherefore of ten pint bottles of moonshine liquor found anchored in the Miami and Erie canal Friday and Saturday, when all boys who were fishing is still unknown to police. They believe bootleggers employed the method as a clever ruse to outwit prohibition officers who were in the city last week.

The bottles were tightly sealed, tied to strings and moored to stakes on the bank.

Several groups of men and boys scoured the banks of the canal Sunday in hopes of making other finds, but no more hootch was fished from the sluggish.

WELFARE WORKERS ASK FOR PERMANENT HEAD AT DELAWARE GIRLS' HOME

Request that civil service examinations for the position of superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home at Delaware be held at once and that from the list of applicants a permanent official be appointed was contained in a resolution forwarded Saturday by the Boarding House division of the Allen-co Child Welfare association, Dr. Josephine Pierce, president of the organization stated Monday.

The resolution, which was directed to Governor Donahey and John E. Harper, director of public welfare, is the outcome of a desire on the part of the association to see the Delaware home placed on a permanent executive basis. Dr. Pierce declared.

For the past nine months the office of superintendent has been filled only temporarily and by the speedy selection of a permanent head thru civil service examination it is hoped to eliminate the unsatisfactory conditions that prevail at present, she asserted.

A similar resolution was endorsed by members of the Federation of Women's clubs a few days ago.

SMALLPOX GAINS THROUGHOUT OHIO

Disease on Increase, Health Reports Indicate

MEASLES EPIDEMIC SUBSIDES

No Scarlet Fever in Allen-co. it is Stated

Smallpox thruout the state is on the increase, according to morbidity statistics of the state health department received Monday at the office of Dr. J. J. Sutter, district health commissioner.

An increase of 40 cases was reported during the first half of June, it is indicated. The total number of cases recorded for this month is 180. But 140 were received by the department the last two weeks of May.

Butler-co shows the greatest prevalence, with 18 cases. Van Wert-co reported five cases and Sandusky five. Spring measles epidemic is gradually subsiding with the summer months, statistics indicate. Total number of reported cases decreased from 5176 the latter part of May to 3069 for the first 15 days of June. The epidemic is general over the state, the measles total being compiled from 69 counties. A similar reduction in number of cases characterizes the Allen-co situation, Dr. Sutter said.

SCARLET FEVER SECOND
Scarlet fever is second in number of reported diseases for the first half of the month, but figures indicate a reassuring decrease. Reported cases dropped from 615 in May to 458 for the similar period in June.

The cases are scattered, it was stated. Most districts report no more than one or two cases. Cleveland is highest with 98 cases. No cases have been reported in Allen-co.

No change in the prevalence of diphtheria is evident thruout the state, Cleveland leads in number of cases, with 61. Allen-co is free from the disease, Dr. Sutter stated.

But 27 cases of typhoid have been reported during the first two weeks of the month, a decrease of two over the last half of May. Allen-co has one case of typhoid which was not contracted in the county, the health commissioner declared.

ABANDONS FLIGHT
Capt. Amundsen Gives up North Pole Trip

CHRISTIANA — (Associated Press) — Captain Roald Amundsen has abandoned his proposed flight across the North pole by airplane, it was announced this afternoon by the Norwegian Minister of Defense.

The minister received a message from Leon Amundsen, brother of Roald, reading:

"Just received the following telegram dated Norwalk, Alaska: 'Trial flight held May 11. Result very unsatisfactory. Sorry forced abandon proposed flight. Have written.'"

"Service before," is the slogan of the traffic bureau now being installed in the Board of Commerce auditorium, according to John S. Link, who will have charge of the local department.

Link and O. E. Kelly, both associated with the Piqua Shipper's association, are preparing the auditorium for the reception of 19,000 tariff files and expect to be completely equipped by the first of next week.

The files, quote both inbound and outbound rates.

Among the services the traffic bureau expects to afford the shipper, Link said, are tracing shipments; securing exact investigating freight rates and filing claims for over charges.

The bureau, he said, will be a center of traffic information and service will be available both to shippers and to railroads.

It will be the aim of the department, he declared, to give information before shipment is made rather than to specialize in post consignment adjustments.

LIMA'S SCHOOLS GROWING

ENUMERATION of Lima's school youth just announced by school officials shows a substantial increase this year over last. This indicates two things of importance; first, that the city is making a healthy growth, altho this is manifest in many other ways, and second, that thought must be given to the future of the school system to keep it adequate to the demands to come.

Lima has been very generous with her schools. Whenever a need has arisen in the past the people have responded in an excellent spirit and have kept the school system abreast of the times. This spirit is to be commended and it is to be hoped that it will be continued.

Schools capable of meeting the growth of a city are one of the greatest possible assets. When a school system is allowed to slip backward, then the city also follows. We owe it to our children to loose the purse strings when their education is at stake for without the advantage of a fair education today a boy or girl is not getting what is rightfully due him or her and is being set adrift in a world of keen competition with a handicap few are able to overcome.

While funds have been voted and contracts have been let for new school buildings here within the last few months, we must not forget that this step is only one in the progress of a rapidly growing city and that others must be taken ere long. We are confident Lima will be ready to meet the situation when it arises.

HEAT OF POLITICS

OHIO townships and municipalities are ready to go in the August primary marathon. Candidates have declared themselves, the lists for the most part are closed and the annual political hub-bub is developing.

Lima is no exception to the general rule. Flurry of the past week, in the process of lining up seekers for the preferment of their fellows, will subside for a short time, only to break out anew as the canvass for votes begins. Prospects are that there will be some heated contests and that the general public will be treated to the usual spectacles, as men vie with another for the capture of public favor.

With no state or county officers to be nominated and elected this year, there is a measure of quietude in Ohio governmental departments in that respect, but what is lacking on that score is made up for abundantly in the "playing of politics" by representatives of the old parties. Those in power are seeking strangleholds in order that they may stay in while those who are out are fighting to get in. Scramble for appointments continues, charges against incumbents are being filed and fights are developing.

Next year there will be a return of playing the game for county, state and national positions. 'Twill be presidential year and full complements of state and county officers will be chosen. Coming events cast their shadows before. Thus early lines are being formed for candidates for president and governor. President Harding has been in office only a little more than two years and Governor Donahey only five months, but stakes are being set for selection of their successors.

President Harding is preparing to make a trip thru the west and into Alaska, delivering speeches as he goes and comes, while Governor Donahey only a short time ago engaged in a wrestling match with the legislature and may be required to resume the test at any time the assembly sees fit to get back on the job. President Harding has declared in favor of American entry into the International Court of Justice, a part of the League of Nations, and there is evidence that his party will split seriously on the question.

Governor Donahey has no quarrel with his own party, or any part of it. His fight is being waged against leaders of the G. O. P. who have set out to thwart him. Using his veto pen in a record-breaking manner, he halted the application of many measures enacted by the Republican controlled body, but certain of them were passed over his veto. The referendum is now being invoked.

It's just one political fight after another under our form of government, year after year, but as a people we appear to like it. We kick about it and then come back for more.

Find a bridge. Jump off and break a leg. A very effective method of staying single this June.

Our expert opinion is that the man who calls sweat perspiration doesn't know much about it.

A porch swing may stay still and still go a long ways toward landing a prospective husband.

FRUIT JUICES FOR THE BABY.

When a baby is fed in whole or in part with pasteurized, sterilized, or boiled, milk, it is necessary to give the baby some fresh fruit juice, such as orange every day if possible, beginning when the baby is a few weeks old.

The fresh fruit juice (tomato juice is quite as good; the juice of tomatoes canned in a factory, by the vacuum process is as good as that of fresh tomato) furnishes vitamins which seem to be essential for normal digestion, normal bowel function, normal growth and development of the infant. Just what the vitamins are nobody has as yet determined, but they are naturally present in fresh milk and reduced or destroyed by boiling, sterilization or pasteurization. Condensed and evaporated milk is generally poor in vitamins.

If mothers are compelled to give their babies substitutes for breast feeding or for pure fresh cow's or goat's milk, the use of a few spoonfuls of some such fruit juice as part of the daily diet will be found to serve one good purpose which is obvious to nearly every mother, the prevention of constipation. When orange juice is given as early as the third week, to counteract the effects of boiled, sterilized, pasteurized or canned milk, only five to ten drops should be given the baby at first, in a spoonful or two of water that has been boiled and cooled and the daily quantity increased gradually week by week until a teaspoonful of pure orange juice is given daily to the baby at the age of two months, at any time in the day apart from regular milk feeding time.

Other fruit juices which serve as well as orange juice for this purpose are peach, pineapple, pear, apricot and apple, in every instance only fresh fruit being used.

Ordinarily it is advisable to begin feeding some such fresh fruit juice to a baby at the age of three months even tho the baby is breast fed or receiving unboiled or unpasteurized fresh milk, for the good effect of the fruit juice on the intestinal digestive function and for the proportion in fruit juices.

A healthy baby may be fed a teaspoonful or two of the pulp of any of the fruits well stewed and strained thru a sieve from the age of 8 months, two or three times a week, and the quantity gradually increased. No uncooked fruit pulp or fruit or any kind should be fed to a baby under 3 years of age. The year old baby may take one or two ounces (rather less than one-third of a tumblerful) of any fresh fruit juice with his meals every day when he does not have stewed or baked apple or other cooked fruit pulp.

The juice of fresh berries or cherries may be given if the other fruit juices are not to be had but orange, tomato and peach juices are probably the best.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LITTLE HOUSE

Within a little, simple house there dwelt a kindly man,
And round about its open door three happy children ran;
Each evening at its supper time the kitchen fairly rang
With the strains of old-time melodies the busy mother sang.

The little house was very like its neighbors in the street,
And yet it seemed to wear a smile, like kindly folk you meet,
While others had a care-worn look of sorrow or despair—
The hardened signs of bitterness were plainly written there.

The women at the doors seemed hurt and tired and faint,
As tho their days and weeks were filled with bickering and complaint;
The men were cold and rough of speech and quarrelsome and mean
And had forgot their tender ways when lovers they had been.

The kindly man came home at night, a smile upon his face,
And down the street to welcome him his little ones would race,
For never had they seen him come at night in rage or hate
And never had he cursed at them, tho supper might be late.

Disension never passed the door. Those walls had never heard,
In all the years which they had stood, one sharp or cruel word.

And so the mother's face stayed fair and so her heart could sing,
And so that little house appeared to be a lovely thing.

You'll know it as you walk along—the glad and happy place
Wears just as bright a look of joy as does a smiling face.

For hate and bitterness and strife leave scars that nothing hides,
While mirth adorns the dwelling place where gentleness abides.

These were the words of Mr. Henry W. Terry, of 222 Morton avenue, New Albany, Ind., during a recent interview with The Plant Juice Man, who is now in Lima at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where he is daily meeting large crowds of local people and explaining his surprising remedy.

"I first began to suffer with my stomach about three years ago," Mr. Terry continued, "and was told that my trouble was caused by ulcers and that I was in danger of having a cancer in my stomach. I lost weight and couldn't do any work and had to give up my work for three months. All I could eat was milk and light cereals. I suffered all the time from pains in my stomach and never felt well or strong and finally I got down in bed and lay there, flat on my back, for over a month. I was told that I could not live and I suffered such intense pain at times that it took three people to hold me down."

"The benefit Plant Juice brought me was far better than I ever expected. I can eat almost anything I care for now without any bad after effects and I feel so well that I can do a hard day's work and not feel tired out afterward. I really feel like a different man—feel better than I have for a long time—and I certainly do not hesitate to make this statement and recommend Plant Juice to everybody."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.—Adv.

To Our Friends—"The Housewives"

Many of you ladies who washed today are thinking about that dreaded ironing you have to do tomorrow. Well, it is no wonder. Women have dreaded the drudgery of ironing day with its tire-some standing and exhaustive strain for years. BUT—IT MUST BE DONE, and tomorrow evening will find you tired, irritable and worn out.

Modern science came to man and relieved HIM of HIS drudgery long ago, in the form of typewriters, adding machines, pencil sharpeners, telephones, elevators and modern appliances too numerous to mention.

NOW, LADIES ITS YOUR TURN

Science, engineering and mechanical skill have combined and perfected an ironer that will do absolutely 100 PER CENT of your ironing.

Instead of your dreading that ironing tomorrow, call us by phone and arrange a free home demonstration with UTENCO IRONER. Or, better still, let us call and get your clothes, and iron them at our store, on

STUDENTS PICK MOST POPULAR MOVIE STAR

(BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM)

NORMA Talmadge, Constance Talmadge, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Rudolph Valentino—note them. They're the most popular motion picture actresses and actors in the United States—among high school students at least. Preferences are based upon returns to a questionnaire sent out by the National Committee for Better Films. It was filled out by 17,000 boys and 20,000 girls in high schools of 76 cities and towns in various sections of the country.

For the first time in the history of stage or screen, two sisters share the heights of popular favor—Norma and Constance Talmadge. It is also interesting to note that Constance is best liked actress classed as comedienne in motion pictures.

With both sexes, the late Wallace Reid was favorite. He was followed closely by Rudolph Valentino, while the boys were strong for Fairbanks. The twenty girls aren't very much taken with Doug, for their next choice was Richard Barthelmess, Charlie Chaplin was seventh on the list, followed by Harold Lloyd.

Perhaps Charlie's standing may be judged by the vigorous protest from both sexes against slap-stick comedy. "Do not enjoy comedies in which principal characters devote much of their acting to bombarding each other with pies and cakes," was the general wording of these complaints.

Boys uniformly prefer the western and frontier comedy and detective types of photoplay. Girls want love stories, comedy and society life. Tragedies and serials carry poor favor.

Both sexes were keen in their criticisms of films—one of the provisions of the questionnaire. The poor but worthy young man who against impossible conditions, wins the hand of a young millionaire, was condemned as not true to life.

Girls were outspoken against the prevalence of murder and shootings on the stage screen. "Fussing, fighting, without comment, boys opposed 'mushy stuff.' They objected to

"Are You a Failure" is Attraction at Sigma This Week

There is no outstanding star in "Are You a Failure?" The Sigma's attraction this week, but for honors of the picture easily go to

Madge Bellamy, as the daughter of the lumber king; Lloyd Hughes, as the pampered ward of two all-too-loving aunts, and Tom Santschi, who plays Kildevil, the river front bully.

The story is a satire on the advertisements that are always striking you in the eye, telling you "How to Succeed" in four lessons. Written by Larry Evans, it moves from an amusing beginning to a thrilling climax, yet never losing the human interest.

Oliver Wendell Blaine has developed into a nifty under the two cautious dictates of two maiden aunts. Alone in his bedroom, he dreams of performing deeds of Napoleonic valor, and he tries to train his dog "Sport" to be a great fighter.

But Sport, like his master, is dominated by the atmosphere of superstition about the house, and does not respond. Oliver's bete noir is Kildevil Brenon, the river-boss of the section, just as Sport is Brenon's great Dane. When

The Hawkins-Ball Stock players further proved their ability as entertainers at the initial performance Sunday of "What's Your Husband Doing?" and pleased patrons at the Faurot Opera House.

"What's Your Husband Doing?" is a decidedly clever bit of writing and deals with the misfortunes and compromising situations that three wives and their husbands encounter.

Kathryn McGuire Opposite Turpin in Sennett Comedy

KATHRYN McGuire's role in Mack Sennett's five reel comedy feature, "The Shriek of Araby," appearing at the Lyric theatre, is something new in the line of vamp portrayals, altho unlike most "vamps," Miss McGuire finally marries her victim. She has the principal role opposite Ben Turpin, who characterizes "The Shriek."

Miss McGuire, as an artist, first appears aboard ship on her way to the great Sahara desert. Enroute she vamps and sketches a Shiek returning to his native country after a visit to America. Her charms also attract the attention of one of the crew (Ben Turpin), who later thru peculiar circumstances becomes the Shiek of Araby.

They meet again and a scene follows in which he tries to exercise his authority, but her beauty and blase manner overcomes him. He is but a weakling in her hands, of which condition she takes advantage in the face of his hordes of wild looking Arabian attendants.

In "The Shriek of Araby," the other principal roles are interpreted by George Cooper, Dick Sutherland, Ray Gray and Louis Fronde.

BROWN CANDIDATE

State Secretary Discussed as Gubernatorial Choice of G. O. P.

Lima News Bureau, Albee Building

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) —

Various gubernatorial aspirants in the ranks of Ohio republicanism will have to consider Secretary of State Thad H. Brown as a likely candidate, in the opinion of a number of his fellow Ohioans who talked with him during a week end trip to Washington.

While Brown declined to discuss state politics and particularly the governorship during his stay here, declaring that he had his "hands full" as secretary of state without running for another job, he left a strong impression behind that he might be a logical choice of Ohio Republicans in the event that Congressman Theodore E. Burton declines to be "drafted."

Brown has much in his favor, Ohio Republicans argue. His service in the World War, his victory last fall despite the defeat of Carmi Thompson at the head of the state ticket and his ability as a campaigner are all mentioned as assets which would appeal to state leaders.

Two sight-seeing busses expected in Lima Monday

Party of five men in two busses were expected to arrive in Lima Monday from Columbus enroute to the Pacific coast. Included in party are John Finnigan, Wheeling, W. Va.; Jack McAliese, Youngstown; John W. Kaufman and H. H. Long, Columbus, and Harold Dobbins of Lima.

Both busses, which were in Lima a week ago, are elegantly outfitted for the western sight-seeing trip. Shelby, Mont., where the Denney-Gibbons fight is to be staged Fourth of July, will be the first stop west.

Dobbins, who is a mechanic, will drive one bus and Long will drive the second bus.

HEALTH COMMISSIONERS WILL MEET IN NOVEMBER

Annual state health conference of county health commissioners at Columbus will be held in November this year, instead of September, according to advices received Monday by Dr. J. J. Sutter.

Extreme heat in September is the reason given for deferring the yearly health meet. Commissioners over the state are urged by the health department to arrange their vacations so as to attend the conference.

DOPE SMUGGLED INTO JAIL

Prison Declared to be Breeding Ground for Hop Habit

YOUTHS GET FIRST DOSE

Situation Revealed by Investigation of Drug Habit

(By FRED V. WILLIAMS.)

SAN FRANCISCO—(Special) — Every walk of life supplies the dope industry with victims.

The things that breed the habit are as many as types of men and women who fall.

One thing I learned in my investigation: the very jail that is supposed to shut the dope user off from society is a breeding place—a veritable initiation hall—for many.

I spent a night in jail to get this information. Runaway lads from the small towns, thrown into tanks with drug victims—

Drunks, vagrants of all sorts—

These frequently have taken their first step after associations made in the friendly jail tanks.

Early in the night the boys come in. Then the drunks. Finally the addicts running mad on their drugs.

DOPE IN JAIL

In our cell the first arrivals were three dope fiends, young men, beginners in dope, chuckling because they had smuggled cocaine and morphine into jail for use over night by passing the stuff in the soles of their shoes.

An old timer joined them and sat silent in a corner of the cell, staring in contempt. Then came a dapper young chap they all seemed to know. I learned he was a pick-pocket just out of prison. Next followed two boys from the country. I judged they had run away from home.

When the lights of the prison were turned out a faint ray remained to our cell. Under this the hop heads began to "shoot." First they softly cooked their morphine in a spoon with a few drops of water. The spoon was held over a lighted match. Then they sucked the drug into an ordinary medicinal dropper.

The first dope fiend, a tall, thin youth of 24 or 25, bared his arm to the elbow and held it under the thin ray of light that slanted thru the barred ceiling. Another addict passed him a safety pin. He stabbed his arm with this and thrust the end of the medicinal dropper into the open wound, pressing the bulb and sending the drug charging thru his veins.

The two addicts followed him.

They repeated their "shots." Around that slender ray of light they became the busiest people in the world. Their thoughts leaped ahead of their conversation and they stopped in the middle of one sentence to hurry on to the completion of another not yet begun.

Finally they singled out one of the two country boys in the cell and invited him to have a "shot." He refused. They insisted. At last the boy consented. I saw them bare his arm. It was as plump and fair as a girl's. I saw the same safety pin that had been used in their ulcerated arms flash in the light.

"That's the way half the hop heads are made nowadays. Looking kids up with friends in jail," the pickpocket told me, as we interferred.

Characteristics of opium users are told in Williams' next article.

RETALIATION BY SPAIN SEEN

Lima Manufacturers Are Interested in Threatened Duties

LIMA NEWS BUREAU, Albee Building

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) —

Threats from Spain indicating that the new commercial treaty which will be drawn between that country and the United States during the present year may contain tariff provisions directed against American manufacturers are causing extreme concern to many Ohio companies, according to a flood of letters received here by Senators Fess and Willis, including a number from Lima.

The present treaty, which has been extended several times at the request of the United States, puts the country among the "most favored nations" and under this provision, Ohioans say, they have increased their exports to Spain, tremendously.

In a letter to Senator Fess, Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes states that negotiations have already been started with Spain either to renew the present treaty or extend it and that "every effort will be made to safeguard American commercial interests to the fullest possible extent."

The date for completing negotiations expires on November 7 of the present year. After that date, according to declarations from Spanish officials, all imports from the United States will be subject to duties no per cent higher than those now being paid. This threat is said to be in a measure retaliatory for some duties imposed on Spanish products by the Fordney-McCumber tariff act, including particularly almonds and walnuts.

CAPTURE IS MADE BY USE OF TEAR BOMB
CLEVELAND—(United Press)—A tear bomb accomplished what a dozen police and firemen could not do in doing so.

Police were summoned to a home in the west side where a man was said to have been. His wife and children threatened him with a shotgun and a knife.

They found the man, 40, armed with a double barreled shotgun and threatened all who came within range. Police Sergeant James Golden attempted to approach the home. He was waved back by the man, who had taken up his stand in a second story window.

A noise at the door of the house attracted the attention of Borak. He turned to look in that direction. Golden dashed toward the window and hurled the tear bomb.

Borak made his way to the first floor and still unable to see because of the tears, he staggered into the yard, where the officers closed in and captured him.

Borak is held at police station, pending examination into his mental condition.

TWO MINOR AUTO MISHAPS REPORTED OVER WEEK-END
Two minor automobile accidents were reported over the week-end to police.

Ray Allen R. D. 7, driving a touring car on a road from Bellefontaine, was struck by a car driven by Charles Paine, 762 Bellefontaine, on turning into the thoroughfare from Harrison-st. It is stated the car was slightly damaged. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon.

An extra car and engine was knocked from the rear of a car driven by Ray Pugh, 424 American Bank Building, Sunday night when a coupe struck his touring car. Pugh reported there were three persons in the other automobile. The accident occurred three miles north of Lakeview.

ORDER FOR THREE NEW CLERKS AT POSTOFFICE IS CONFIRMED MONDAY

Confirmation of an order for three additional postal carriers and authorization of funds to provide for them was received Monday by Postmaster A. E. Gale, at the Lima postoffice.

An inspector will visit the office soon to investigate the needs for three additional clerks, Gale said. The carriers will be added to the city force July 1, at which time the entire postal area will be re-districted.

Reorganization of city routes will eliminate the present doubling of carriers in business and residence districts thus insuring prompt delivery to the residence sections, Gale pointed out.

Postmaster Gale returned Sunday from Lakeside, where he is spending part of his vacation period. Vacations will start for the carrier and clerical force after the first of July, Gale said. Carriers and clerks are granted 15 days vacation on pay, exclusive of Sundays and holidays.

CAME VERY NEAR STARVING
Youngstown Resident was Unable to Eat For Days
"My gratitude to Tanlac is almost beyond words to express for it has relieved me of ten years of constant pain and misery," is the heartfelt statement made recently by Mrs. Mary M. Waschak, 433 Carroll St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I had stomach trouble so bad almost everything disagreed with me and my sufferings were awful. I often went for three or four days without eating and then for days at a time I couldn't retain anything I did eat. I also had headaches that would continue for several days and cause me such agony I could hardly endure them."

"Well, after trying almost everything, the Tanlac treatment has completely overcome my troubles, and, oh, what relief and happiness I feel! I just eat and enjoy everything and this is even more wonderful, I never have a headache now. Tanlac rendered me the most wonderful service any medicine could when it brought me such splendid health, and I simply can't praise it enough."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

Lawyer Tells How He Gained Weight and Strength by Taking Bitro-Phosphate.
Earl Drake, an Arizona lawyer, makes an interesting report on the use of Bitro-Phosphate for overcoming weakness, nervousness, etc. He says: "I was all run-down, nervous and thin in six months' time I gained 15 pounds. My nerves became steady, my appearance improved and I can now do everything that requires nervous energy. Scores of weak, nervous people should profit by this lawyer's experience. Bitro-Phosphate is inexpensive, safe to take and can be obtained from any good druggist."

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl of 17 and a junior in high school. I have been a student for a year and I would like to ask you a few questions. I am a very nervous girl and I am afraid to ask you for advice. I am a very nervous girl and I am afraid to ask you for advice.

I agree with your mother that it may be difficult to obtain such work, inasmuch as you are inexperienced and have not yet finished your courses. There are so many girls who have finished, you know. Still, there is no harm in trying, and you deserve credit for your ambition and determination to find work. It is absolutely necessary that you work this summer. Couldn't you spend your extra time studying, instead? It would help you with your work next year and make it possible for you to finish earlier. I think you are pretty young to be a bookkeeper. However, it is possible that you can find something and "advance yourself," as you say. Meanwhile, watch the want ads.

I think it would be better if you wouldn't spend much time going to shows. And as for parties, they are all right if they are given in the daytime and if the boys and girls are all nice. I just have a hunch that you want me to say "no" so you can tell your little sister or somebody that I said she shouldn't go around with other girls. I think that it's very nice for girls your age to let the little ones play with you once in a while. Little girls do love to be with older girls, and couldn't you be nice to them just part of the time?

NAPOLÉON ONCE SAID

"A Foot-sore Army is an Army Half Defeated"
When Napoleon was in the way the victory of the army was within his grasp. Sunday noon, the affair was planned in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Wolford (who) were laid for forty guests. An afternoon of coffee and music was enjoyed by the guests.

Members of the N. B. O. club will enjoy a picnic at the country home of Mrs. Clarence Klinger, Thursday evening, 7 o'clock. Mrs. Klinger will be the hostess.

Miss Margaret Cooper left on Monday for her home in Chicago, leaving a guest at the George R. Hotel, 101 S. Market st., 101 S. Market st.

Mr. J. D. Neely, 5 Cole-st., will receive nearly two hundred guests at the Shawnee Country club, Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 4. Mrs. Neely has invited her friends to meet her house guests Mrs. A. E. Clutter of the graduating class.

Delphos did it. Broke Independent streak. Bernie's boys must start over now. Knights of Columbus lost to Minster. Lake Erie shored across a win here.

MILEE L'ENGLE, French tennis champ, has decided to quit the tennis game forever. She defeated Miss Golding yesterday at Paris and was hissed by the crowd because she got an umpire's decision in her favor. She declares that Paris crowds are unfair and unsportsmanlike.

BOBBY JONES will not compete in the annual tournament of the Southern Golf association. He has just returned from his studies at Harvard and wants to rest for some special matches and the National open championships.

BILL TILDEN won the New England tennis championship today. Manuel Alonso, former European and Spanish champ, Sunday. The scores were 7-5, 7-5, 6-3 and 6-2.

AN UNKNOWN soldier has sent a medal badge to Tommy Gibbons to be worn July 1. It has protected the doughboy from stars in three wars and is 2500 years old. An inscription on the back says that "no evil can come near me."

MALCOLM DOUGLAS of Maine has been elected captain of the Yale track team. Edward Green of New York City is manager.

MRS. MARY HORNBY, mother of Rogers Hornsby, was reported to be improving, Monday.

NINE YALE and Harvard athletes were picked for the combined team that will meet Oxford and Cambridge at London in July. The rest of the team will be picked Saturday at the Harvard stadium in time and jump trials.

DAVID FUSKEE, of Worthington, Minn., won the Minnesota amateur trap shooting championship with a score of 197 out of 200.

ANDERSON AND HAWKS, of Australia, defeated Castle and Cook, Hawaiian Davis cup contenders in an exhibition match 6-2, 6-2. The games were played in Honolulu.

ATTEMPTS WILL be made to have winners of the Stag meet held in Chicago Saturday compete in the Olympic games next summer without further competition.

Chicago Loses To Lima L. E.

Another step toward the championship of the Little League was made by the Lima L. E. & W. players Sunday afternoon at Murphy's park when they defeated the Chicago team of the same road, 12 to 2.

The game was listless from start to finish with the locals never in danger. Michaels slammed a home run to left field in the fourth inning with no one on. Latz was the star with good work in the field and Cunningham was the local gem having struck out seven of the opposing batters.

Score by innings: Chicago 100 000 2-3; Lima 340 311 12-1. Batteries: Chicago, Jendre and Fahmyer; Lima, Cunningham and Phillips.

EVERETT TRUE—

LIMA FEELS DEFEAT FOR FIRST TIME THIS YEAR

2 Circuit Hits By 1 Man

(By FRANKLIN DOAN)

You can fool some of the teams all the time and all the teams some of the time, but you can't fool all the teams all the time. And we have proof of it. For the first time this year the Lima Independents pulled up on the short side of the score, losing to the Delphos American Legion team, 5 to 1.

Quite a contrast it was to the stellar playing of the locals in previous games. Inefficient hitting could not be the stellar support of the opposing pitcher proved a jinx to the locals.

Berry, local hurling ace was way off. His usual hook ball didn't curve and his last one got just close enough to the plate that the opposing batters could slam it. From the fourth to the seventh the Delphos crowd were somewhat abated but they started again and added three more tallies to their side of the list.

DEMORALIZED How the Lima team took such a turn toward the worse is still the talk of local bugs. The infield worked nearly as well as usual, the outfield made a couple of costly misjudgments on fly balls but the fast start of the visitors tended to demoralize the locals and greatly impair their hitting ability.

Remember, Delphos centerfielder, was responsible for four of the Delphos runs. Out of five trips to the platter he pounded out two homers, each over the right field wall, two three baggers and one double. Without doubt it was the greatest hitting feat ever seen on the local lot. The first trip he took to the plate Berry gave him a high one on the inside and he slammed it 20 feet above the fence. And incidentally every hit that he made was garnered from a high ball on the inside.

Delphos started the assault early. In the first inning two hits, one error and a past ball gave them two runs. In this inning Galbreath made a wonderful leaping catch of Carr's liner and gathered it in from his shoestrings.

Thebert was the star of the local clan with perfect playing in the defense and one hit out of three tries at the plate.

WORLD SERIES FAME PASSES QUICKLY

By BILLY EVANS

Three world series heroes, John Rawlings, Jesse Barnes and Hank Gowdy, recently passed thru the sieve of the trade market. John William Rawlings, who choked the last ounce of life out of the New York Yankees when the Giants won the 1921 series from their American League rivals, has departed from the family of John J. McGraw.

There have been others before Rawlings and the recent transfer strengthens the trade-mark in baseball. It reads:

"It isn't what you were but what you are."

The Pittsburgh Pirates now own Rawlings, having obtained him recently in a transfer with the Phillies when they parted with Pitcher Glazner and Infielder Tierney and also drew Pitcher Lee Meadows.

ONE PLAY WINS FAME

The Phillies drew Rawlings from the Giants via purchase and were forced to arrange a trade for him when he refused to associate himself with the National League fallenders.

The play that turned Rawlings from obscurity to fame was the last thriller in the final game in 1921. The Giants had won four and the Yankees three as they teed up in the eighth inning.

It was a battle, too, with Art Nehf opposed to Waite Hoyt. The National

JIM BARNES AND HANK GOWDY

League scored one run in the opening inning and that was their goes back to the Giants. That ought to please Hank. lead, 1 to 0, when the ninth opened.

Ruth, a cripple, was hauled out of the coop to start a winning rally but was retired on a grounder to Kelly. Ward next drew a walk. Frank Baker put on the hit and run play and drove a grounder that was bound for right field when midget Rawlings went fast to his left, and with a nose-dive skidding along the ground, came up with the ball, and tossed to Kelly a step ahead of Baker.

MADE THRILLING FINISH

Ward was racing on his way to third base and Kelly with his back to the play heard Rawlings shout: "Third base, Fred, third base!"

Without looking Kelly fired his relay to third base. It was a trifle high, but Frisch, leaping in the air, stabbed the ball and tagged Ward, who was sliding for the bag, a spectacular double play at a big moment.

Jesse Barnes, the pitching hero of the 1921 series, goes back to Boston. It was Barnes, not figured good enough to start, who stopped the Yanks dead in two games in which he acted as relief pitcher an dwon.

Hank Gowdy, the big star of the 1914 series, in which his great work featured the four straight wins of

TICKETS ON SALE FOR CASEYS BEATEN BY MINSTER

With carpenters rushing the completion of the Gross out door training quarters and the placing of three thousand reserved seats on sale by the Gym Club, Limaistic fandom is awakening to the fact that a near championship battle will be fought here next Monday night.

Fans, who a week ago were asking "Who is this Brown?" are now asking "Is Gross experienced enough to box a boy like Brown?" They have looked him up and have found that he has fought all the good ones, Kilbane, Valgar, Fox, Hornman, the two Chaney's and nearly all the rest. He may not be as good as he was when he beat Johnny Kilbane in 1919 but he has probably slipped no farther than Valgar, Pepper Martin, Joey Fox, Babe Herman and the other stars of today who were at the top four or five years ago. Brown is not an old man and is said to be a master boxer at both long range and infighting.

The attack of tonsillitis and the intense heat has pulled Gross below his normal weight and he has not done much work in preparation for this match. But in his few workouts his plan of battle has been discernable for he has attacked his sparring partners with a fury that could not be denied. It is evident that he holds no hopes of out boxing the eastern flash but that he hopes to beat him down an out by setting a terrific pace from the first going. He has developed a nasty left hand that flashes in and out like a streak and he is staying close enough to make it effective at all times.

It is evident that Brown holds the local boy lightly but as this is his first appearance in the west he will probably be in the best of condition. He realizes that a knockout victory over Gross will make him a lot of money in these parts and he is not likely to take any chances by not being in the best of condition.

WILDE DEFENDS HIS TITLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK — A little man from Wales was scheduled to climb thru the ropes of the ring at the Polo Grounds Monday night to meet a little brown youth from the Philippines in defense of his title of flyweight champion of the world.

Jimmy Wilde, defender, gaunt and thirty-one, and Pancho Villa, challenger, ambitious and 21—meet in a bout that is scheduled for 15 rounds to a decision.

The contest, scheduled to start at nine o'clock Eastern Standard time, besides bringing up anew the age old struggle of youth and age, marks the fulfillment of a wish long held by fight followers for a match between these two men from the ends of the earth.

In this meeting, which crowns a long series of successful battles unique in their way, the little old fighter from Wales faced a youth rushing out of his teens in which he has known both victory and defeat and mixes much ring strategy with the drive and punch of youth which still are his. The meeting should not fail to prove interesting.

Both men declare themselves ready and fit.

New Management Takes Over Title Bout

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—The business direction of the Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons heavyweight champion at Shelby July 4 passed into hands of new executives Monday with the departure of Dan Tracey, pioneer in the boxing industry, for Shelby to assume charge of the fight arrangements.

Tracey, with a corps of trained associates, was accompanied by Jack Kearns, manager of the champion. Tracey was selected to take over the management with absolute authority after business men of Great Falls dug into their pockets Saturday to contribute to the $180,000 installment due Dempsey on the $300,000 guarantee. He plans to make whatever changes are deemed necessary for the successful promotion of the match, paying particular attention to the machinery for handling tickets.

Tracey declared Monday that he felt confident the attendance would reach at least 20,000 with the gate receipts at more than $600,000, figuring that the average price of a ticket would be about $30.

Efforts are being made to obtain the final installment of $100,000 due Kearns July 2 as soon as possible. George H. Stanton, bank president, said that the money will be paid

SHORT SHAVINGS

Jesse Erick, 647 Atlantic-av., has remarkably acute hearing. Or else it is a particularly fine radio he has set up in his home.

He says, "I could hear the audience breathe at the close of a musical program in Detroit."

Mrs. George Klinger, at Logan, has a gifted hen that lays a large double-yolk egg every few days for her.

Friends who accept her invitation to ride in her automobile always took before they sit down. For when the hen lays one of the big double-yolk eggs, she always lays it on the rear seat of the auto.

Charles Herbst, tailor, records the mistake of a neighbor who went out into his back yard after dark. He didn't know the automatic lawn sprinkler was in operation, Herbst said, and stepped into the outer edge of the spray.

The few drops made him think it was starting to rain. When he started for the house he ran into the sprinkler and got the full force of the water.

"Gosh!" he said, dashing into the house. "That rain certainly came up quick."

Sheriff Bob Ewing is making every effort to find a confiscated still which disappeared from the Auglaize-co jail at Wapakoneta.

He suggests that whoever made off with the still has some other use for it than to keep it as a curiosity. He says he wouldn't be surprised if one who stole the still intended to make liquor in it.

Scout Executive C. L. Conrad, out for an afternoon with a number of scouts, undertook to jump a brook to prove that he could.

Just as he jumped, the wind blew off his hat. He was afraid it would fall into the water. But it didn't. It fell on the opposite bank and when he landed an instant later his feet came down on the hat.

Dr. John Blattenberg, veterinarian, tells that he was called by the owner of a dog to treat the animal, which had one of its legs injured.

The solicitous owner had bandaged up the leg. When Blattenberg arrived he found the canine running blithely about on the bandaged leg, and holding up the one that wasn't bandaged. "Was simply a case of mistaken identity in the matter of the injured leg."

Chief of Police T. A. Lancker reports that a prohibition agent with a search warrant entered a house in this city, in search of booze.

The woman in the house threw the contents of a dishpan supposed to contain whiskey into a hot stove, where it exploded with a bang that knocked the stove off its legs.

Ben Motter, attorney, started home with some law books in a suit case. He stopped in front of a hotel entrance to talk to a friend. "When I wasn't looking," says Motter, "a bell boy seized the suit case and rushed into the hotel with it."

"My Rheumatism is gone—"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S. S. S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
